Dear Dr. Rudnick,

Greetings from Buenos Aires!

I trust you are doing well and hope both you and your wife have continued to paint.

I finally take a moment to write to you to thank you for the copy of your book The Peace Tree. It is such a wonderful way to explain to children the options they have to resolve conflict, especially in this day in age. Vital for them to understand it from such a young age. I loved the pictures and the size of the book as well.

Thank you again. I commend you for doing such altruistic work.

Warmest Regards,
Nancy

Dear Sandy:

This week I`back from a treep,and Laura informed me about your visit and the book you wrote and kindly gaves to our Museum.

I red it,and find it very interesting and spetially pedagogic,since it is not easy to teach the Holocaust to little children.Really,its a important contribution for this matter,spetially in our times. Thank you very much,and as we say:"leasher kochachá!".

The Holocaust Museum in Buenos Aires

26 Feb 2010 11:27

Representatives of the Holocaust Museum being established in Buenos Aires, the first in South America, visited the Auschwitz-Birkenau Museum. An official agreement was signed for the borrowing of some items from the Auschwitz-Birkenau Museum collections. This is rather an exception to the rule, but the unique location of the new museum was taken into account.

To whom it may concern: I am an attorney in Walnut Creek, California. I have donated my book, "Gods Formula" to many Holocaust Museums in the US and other libraries and temples around the world. I would like to donate my book to your library as well. The book is about resolving religious conflict and preventing another Holocaust in the future. If you are interested in the donation I will send the book to you

Shanghai Jewish Refugees Museum

Located on Changyang Road in the Hongkou District, the Shanghai Jewish Refugees Museum was built in memory of the time during the Second World War when Jewish refugees sought sanctuary from massacre. It is housed in the former Ohel Moshe Synagogue where the Jewish refugees gathered for religious activities. The museum holds many scrolls and other cultural relics.

Built in 1927, the former Ohel Moshe Synagogue (the prototype of Shanghai Jewish Refugees Museum) was also the headquarters of the Jewish Youth Organization. Between the year 1937 and 1941, Shanghai has received 25,000 Jewish refugees and became the only metropolis in the world which did not refuse Jews. The number of Jewish refugees that Shanghai took in was equal to the total taken in by Australia, New Zealand, Canada, India and South Africa. "Ohel Moshe Synagogue" became a synonym for "rescue" and "refuge".

The Jewish refugees lived a free and peaceful life around the former Ohel Moshe Synagogue. Between the end of the Second World War II and 1960's, many left China and emigrated to all parts of the world one after another. But the life in Shanghai was so memorable, and they considered Shanghai as their second hometown and called themselves "Shanghai Jews".

Good mooning Sandford

I have spoken to the holocaust memorial organisation and will give them your book. They will no doubt acknowledge this. I personally thank you for making the effort to present this book to the Irish Jewish community and understand the effort you have made to do so.

If you know of any persons who have an Irish Jewish connection I would like to hear from them to have their family information added to our data base which now contains just over 50,000 individual entries.

I take this opportunity to wish you a good and Healthy New year

Dear Mr. Rudnick,

Thank you for your e-mail of February 24 of this year in which you kindly offered to donate your book, God's Formula, to the Vatican Library.

This is not the type of book that we usually keep in our Library which specializes in humanistic materials and studies of ancient books and manuscripts. However, if you wish to send it, our acquisitions commission will decide.

You had also graciously offered to send a donation to the Library. The Vatican Library is a part of the Holy See and the best way to send a donation to the Holy See would be to contact the Bishop of your city.

Thank you for your generosity in remembering our Institution.

SCOLPISCI il tuo nome NELLA STORIA

Milano, Santo Natale 2013

Gentile Donatore,

l'occasione mi è lieta per rinnovare la mia più sincera gratitudine nei Suoi confronti. La Sua adesione al progetto «Adotta una Guglia: scolpisci il Tuo nome nella storia», non solo rappresenta un prezioso contributo d'ordine economico per il restauro e la valorizzazione del Monumento, che dal 1387 si pone come simbolo della Città di Milano, ma costituisce anche un segnale di grande profondità morale e senso civico.

Il Suo gesto contribuisce infatti al perpetuarsi del racconto di un popolo che con la sua fede e il suo lavoro ha iscritto la sua storia nella pietra della Cattedrale.

Auguro a Lei e ai suoi cari un sereno Natale e un prospero anno nuovo.

Introduction

At 8:15 a.m. on August 6, 1945, the city of Hiroshima fell victim to the world's first atomic bombing. The entire city was virtually leveled; thousands upon thousands of lives were lost. Many of those who managed to survive suffered irreparable physical and psychological damage and still suffer the effects today.

The Peace Memorial Museum collects and displays belongings left by the victims, photos, and other materials that convey the horror of that event, supplemented by exhibits that describe Hiroshima before and after the bombing and others that present the current status of the nuclear age. Each of the items displayed embodies the grief, anger, or pain of real people. Having now recovered from that A-bomb calamity, Hiroshima's deepest wish is the elimination of all nuclear weapons and the realization of a genuinely peaceful international community.

JOHANNESBURG'S public libraries are hubs of education, giving residents access to books, magazines and audio-visual materials.

Besides lending out material, the City's libraries offer a wide-range of other services including literacy classes, story telling sessions for youngsters, classroom support, gatherings for older residents and literary competitions.

Joining a library
All residents are welcome to join
